CHROMA

1. THE PURITY OF A COLOUR, OR ITS
FREEDOM FROM WHITE OR GRAY.
2. INTENSITY OF DISTINCTIVE HUE;
SATURATION OF A COLOUR.

A LETTER FROM KATIE KOLODINSKI

This collection explores the transformative power of chromotherapy. Chromotherapy is the idea that colour has the power to influence our psychology, attitude, and experience of the world. A study I recently read by Zi-Yu Wang investigates the connection between the effects of aging on our eyesight and the importance of consciously incorporating colour into our daily lives. According to the study, integrating colour theory into the living spaces of elderly people improves their cognitive function and quality of life by stimulating memory and awareness of the environment and decreasing feelings of stress and anxiety. For this reason, I was inspired to create this season with unique pops of colour.

The vibrant hues and carefully chosen palettes of this collection are designed to influence your mood and emotions, creating a sense of harmony and well-being. At the same time, the collection draws inspiration from cosy, time-honoured garments - think plaids, soft knits, and classic prints evoking the warmth and familiarity of the past.

I wanted to experiment with new colourways and combinations that create distinct moods and emotions. Florals and plaids have been created with purposeful restraint, using colour in a way that makes the wearer feel happy, calm, or comforted. My aim is to harness the emotional impact of colour in a fresh and meaningful way and make sure the wearer feels good no matter the hue they choose.
